

The Whole of Cache County.

MENDON, December 24, 1906.—One of the saddest deaths that this town has experienced for a long time was that of Miss Ireta, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Richards, Monday morning. At the Primary fair Friday evening she sang a beautiful song. On Saturday evening she went to bed with a severe headache, and the next day she was a corpse. Ireta was sixteen years of age and was dearly loved by all her associates. Her death was caused by heart failure due to rheumatism.

Henry Bult and wife, of Glens Ferry, gave their relatives a big surprise by dropping in on them unexpectedly this morning.

All the Christmas celebrations have been postponed until New Year's on account of the death of Ireta Richards.

The Primary had an affair in the meeting house Friday evening in honor of Joseph Smith's birthday.

William Reed and wife were made happy over the arrival of a fine boy. All concerned doing well.

Mary Lamont has been sent for from Butte on account of the serious illness of her brother John.

Artemesia Richards has returned home after spending three months in the capital.

Mrs. Jane George and son have gone to Snake River country to spend the holidays.

Willis and Floyd Hardman came home from Garland to spend the holidays.

The many friends of Clara Sorenson will be sorry to hear that she is very ill.

Leo Richards and wife, of Heber, are here to attend the funeral of their sister.

Mrs. Maggie Cooley has come to spend the holidays with her parents.

The roads between here and Logan are almost, if not quite, impassible.

John Ladle and wife, of Salt Lake, will spend their holidays here.

John Lamont is critically ill.

Remarkable Cure.

"I was much afflicted with sciatica," writes Ed C. Nud, Iowa, Sedgwick Co., Kan., going about on crutches and suffering a deal of pain. I was induced to try Ballard's Snow Liniment, which relieved me.

"I used three 50c bottles. It is the greatest liniment I ever used; have recommended it to a number of persons; all express themselves as being benefited by it. I now walk without crutches, am able to perform a great deal of light labor on the farm."

NEWTON.

NEWTON, December 22, 1906.—Thomas Griffin and Mattie Jenkins were married in the Logan temple on Wednesday, December 19, and in the evening of that date a reception was given at the home of the bride's parents. After a delicious supper was served, the rest of the evening was spent in games, songs, music, step-dancing, and a general good time was enjoyed. The wedding cake was a beauty, prepared by home talent. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Rigby, J. Larsen, W. R. Ballard, John Benson, John Griffin, John Hansen, C. Christensen, Ernest Jensen, I. Benson, Oliver Jenkins, Franklin Griffin; Mesdames Annie Benson, Mary B. Larson, Marie Jenkins; Misses Nettie Griffin, S. Jones, Ruth Jenkins, Lizzie Christensen, Jane Benson; Messrs. G. Clark, Frank Ecklund, John Benson, Daniel Benson, Amos Rigby Heber Beck and James Nielson.

John Benson is building a modern white brick cottage on 1st East street. The plans show an up-to-date one and a half story, first class and latest style finish. The brick work was done by Thomson & Codey, Richmond, the carpenter work by home contractors and builders.

L. C. Miller has built a fine house on 2nd South street, which greatly improves that part of the town. He is plastering it now and will occupy it some time during the winter.

One of the last threshing machines in the field finished its last job a few days ago.

Miss Ida Jacobsen is considerably improved from her spell of quinsy.

Preparations are being made for a play during the holidays.

HYDE PARK, December 23, 1906.—It seems that several of our young people were of one heart and mind on last Wednesday, for on that day Thos. Perkes and Rhoda Jorgensen went to the Logan temple where they were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. Henceforth they will journey down the stream of time as "two souls that beat as one." Their many friends wish them a happy, prosperous life together. On the same day and place Mr. Oscar Seamons, formerly of this place, and Miss Mary Shaffer, of Preston, and Mr. D. S. Smith, formerly of Kaysville, but now the popular violin teacher of the B. Y. C., and Miss Pauline Harris of this place, also a violinist of no mean ability, took upon themselves matrimonial obligations.

A wedding reception in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Perkes was held the evening of their marriage at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Jorgensen, where the parents, brothers, sisters and other relatives and friends sat down to a wedding supper fit for kings and queens to partake of. After the reception all retired to the hall where dancing was free to all who desired it.

Our yearly visitor, Santa Claus, was seen in Logan last week, and on inquiring, we found out that his honor was making purchases for his many children in our ward. We feel safe in saying that all of our children will be made happy by this dear old friend we love so well.

Mr. Ezra Richards, son-in-law of Hon. Robert Reeder, is here visiting relatives and friends. At our Sunday afternoon service he gave us a comprehensive sermon upon the duties of parents to their children, to themselves, their God and to their fellow-men.

The critical condition of James A. Daines, who left our ward last spring to dwell upon his farm near Battle Creek, Oneida county, Ida., has caused considerable anxiety among his many friends here. Brother Daines is an upright, honest and respected citizen, and many are earnestly praying for his speedy restoration to health.

A little daughter of Robert and Laura Carver was taking with pneumonia several days ago, and has been very sick ever since. All that faith, skill and tender care can do, is being done for her, and hopes are entertained for her recovery.

An excellent program, with a Christmas tree, was given on Christmas eve by the Primary Association.

There was a dance Saturday night which was well attended, and another was given Christmas afternoon and night.

The Sunday school officers are arranging for a parents' class to begin in the near future.

Young Lester Morse, a lad of some eight or ten years, is down with pneumonia.

Good Old Times in Oregon.

Return to the "good old times," would you? Then rise on a cold morning and wash at the pump, pull on a pair of rawhide boots that rival a tin can in stiffness, pull on a woolen shirt over your back and sit down to a bare meal with your three-legged stool dancing around on a slipshod floor, eat corn pone and bacon for a steady diet and labor 14 hours out of 24. Go without a daily paper, a fly screen, a mosquito bar, a spring mattress, a kerosene lamp; gee-haw your oxen to market and sit on the floor of an ox cart as you vend your way to church or a frolic. Parch corn and peas for coffee and use sassafras for tea, and see how you like it.—Arlington Record.

Secret of Happiness.

The true secret of happiness is not to escape toil and affliction, but to meet them with the faith that through them the destiny of man is fulfilled, that through them we can even now reflect the image of our Lord and be transformed into His likeness.

Doctor's Advice.

"Don't talk to me about doctors! I consulted one and he advised me to sleep with my window open. I did so, and the next morning my watch and pocketbook had disappeared."—Translated Tales from Fliegende Blätter.

TRENTON, Utah, Dec. 21, 1906.—Our mill is nearing completion. They expect to have it running by the first of the year. The power for the mill is to be furnished by the High Creek Electric Light and Power company, which will also furnish lights for the people of Trenton and vicinity at a very moderate cost.

T. H. Cutler, boarded the train last evening for Logan. Hope he will return soon, as his pleasant smile on the street is very much missed. We understand that Miss Eva Merrill, Mr. Cutler's former clerk, is going to take up a position in Briggs, Petersen & Co.'s store, commencing the first of the year.

Wm. Homer some time ago moved his family to Smithfield, his house being immediately occupied by H. T. Peterson and family, of Smithfield. Mr. Peterson is the manager of the new mill.

Business in a general way seems to be pretty good, as Messrs. Briggs and Cutler, our two merchants, seem to be doing a rushing business.

Our school is doing nicely under the management of Prof. A. L. Waite, of Hyde Park.

There seems to be a great deal of sickness in our community, but as yet there has been only one fatality, that being the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Parley Merrill.

Jim Hill drove over to Logan last Monday, returning Tuesday with his daughter and her husband, Mr. Dell Winn.

The Trenton boys who have been working on the canal for the last few weeks have returned to their homes to spend the holidays.

Alma Hill and Bishop Benson have moved their families to Logan to spend the winter, their ranches being occupied by George Hansen and Dave Zollinger.

Jack Machin, or "Noisy," as he is more commonly known, our genial lumberman, seems to be doing a thriving business, and we understand there are several new buildings to be erected in the near future.

A brother of Mrs. Fulkerson, our agent's wife, has been spending a few days with his sister.

There have been a great many cars of wheat loaded at our station this fall, but at present it is moving very slowly on account of poor quality, low prices and bad roads.

Our beet crop is nearly harvested; about two weeks more will finish them.

We notice a scarcity of coal all over the country, but thanks to Lee Payne, our local coal dealer, none of us have suffered as yet.

Mrs. George Hansen and little ones, who have been spending a few days with her mother, Mrs. Alma Hill at Logan, returned home yesterday, which accounts for the pleasant smile seen on George's face.

COURAGE OF RUSSELL SAGE.

Close Friend Sheds New Light on Character of Financier.

Twenty years ago few persons could get into the presence of Russell Sage without passing inspection by John E. McCann, who for a long time was Mr. Sage's confidential clerk, says the Wall Street Journal. Mr. McCann served efficiently in that position, but he had a soul for poetry, and after ten years he left finance for literature.

Now that Mr. Sage has died, Mr. McCann contributes to the Journal a remarkable tribute to his character. He speaks of him as a genius. He says he was a deeply religious man, who had often during a lull in the storm of business "muttered a little prayer," and who in the panic of May, 1894, "when the universe seemed crashing about his ears, looked and acted like one in deep communion with the infinite." He declares that Mr. Sage was a "true man and a gentleman." While it was impossible for him to eringe, he did not know how to offend deliberately. The proof of his moral courage was to be found in the fact that for nearly 34,000 days he insisted on living his own life in his own way, regardless of criticism, whereas a weaker man would have been made a reckless spendthrift by the ridicule to which Mr. Sage was subjected because of the carefulness of his personal expenditures.

Took Wind Out of Their Sails.

Addressing one of his southern audiences, Sam Jones once requested all the husbands present who had not spoken a harsh word to their wives for a month to stand up. He shook hands with those who arose and then introduced them to the rest of the audience as the "27 biggest liars in Tennessee."—Ram's Horn.

INDIA'S GREAT SUN DIAL.

That at Delhi One of the World's Remarkable Antiquities.

Among the remarkable antiquities of India is the great sundial at Delhi. It is 58 feet high, the length of the oblique edge being 116 feet and the radius of the circle about 19 feet.

Its construction is unique. A narrow flight of stone steps, parallel to the axis of the earth, towers upward. The walls which support it are of marble.

The shadow falls upon huge marble arcs, built out to the right and left, and accurately indicates the time.

Broad galleries and steps are constructed on all sides. The platforms of the structure were once used, it is supposed, for smaller astronomical instruments, which have crumbled away with the passing years. Before the year 1800 English tourists found the building used for horse stalls.

The sun dial is the largest in the world and is supposed to have been erected by Jai Sing II, who built great observatories in many places in India, and their present massive ruins give silent testimony to an unsurpassed knowledge of the science of astronomy.

Couldn't Afford It.

About a year ago Sewell Ford became a resident of Rye, N. Y. He had lived there only a short time before he discovered that one of his neighbors was Simeon Ford. The revelation was made over the telephone.

"Hello!" said a voice, "is this Sewell Ford?"

The author of "orty" admitted that it was.

"Well," went on the voice, "this is Simeon Ford. Some one's sent me your meat bill."

"Good! Why don't you pay it?"

"I will if you'll pay mine," said Simeon.

At last accounts the bargain had not been concluded. Simeon runs a hotel.—Exchange.

Parliament of Men.

"To be or not to be, that is the question," cried Hamlet in a loud voice, but it was destined that he should proceed no further.

"Mr. Chairman, I rise to a point of order," interrupted the Ghost, who had been sitting in one of the rear seats; "the motion to adjourn is not debatable."

Confronted thus by Robert's Rules of Order, the Noble Dane paled, muttered incoherently and sat down. Afterward he had his speech inserted in the Congressional Record.—Woman's Home Companion.

Ages in the Animal Kingdom.

A great variance as to length of life appears among different animals. Some insects live for only a few hours, while fish, elephants, and turtles are frequently centenarians, says a writer in the Sunday Magazine. The average life of the mosquito is three days. Toads usually live to the age of about 15 years, while carp have been known to reach 150.

Chickens live from 12 to 15 years; dogs to the age of ten and occasionally 15, and parrots to extreme age. These birds have been known to pass the age of 200 years. Turtles are also frequently centenarians, as are storks, and elephants are said to reach the age of 300 years. Whales have been known to live for 400 years.

Artistic Sensitiveness.

"Why are you so resentful toward that writer?"

"Because," answered Mr. Stormington Barnes, "he once said there were moments when my work did not realize the highest possible standard of excellence."

"Well?"

"My dear sir, I welcome criticism, but I cannot endure such ignorant abuse."
